

NAEP Annual Conference 2013

Legacy For Learning Tools For Change

18th & 19th June 2013

Chesford Grange Conference Centre and Hotel, Kenilworth, Warwickshire

NAEP Annual Conference 2013

We exist in an ever changing world, where we are constantly confronted with new and complex challenges in the workplace. This year's NAEP National Conference asks have you got the tools you need to successfully manage change?

The content of this year's NAEP National Conference 2013 has been developed with the objective to both enlighten and develop all those working in equipment provision and wheelchair services within the community. In keeping with the ethos of NAEP as an organisation, the Conference aims to support and share good practice to all across the UK and beyond in the provision of equipment for disabled people.

This year's Conference is packed with subject matter that addresses all the key essential elements of your role such as assessment, supply, loan, commissioning and procurement. So if you are responsible for commissioning, providing or have clinical responsibilities then this year's conference has something for you.

We have looked and we have learned from the legacy of previous NAEP Conferences to create a conference that you must attend to further develop the skills and knowledge you need to work in the ever changing community equipment sector. We also aim to deliver a unique tailored learning experience for each individual delegate.

As always the Conference boasts an exhibition of some of the most innovative products available supported by their suppliers and manufacturers. Over the two days of the conference you will have the opportunity to try the extensive portfolio of products on display. Make sure you are part of the new generation of 2013 and join us for NAEP's "Legacy for Learning" at the Chesford Grange Conference Centre in June 2013. Different delegate packages are available; please refer to conference packages opposite.
